

Twelve engineers trained as SPICE assessors at Mecel

Mecel has since 2005 been striving to meet the global requirements from leading manufacturers and tier suppliers to be ISO/IEC 15504 / Automotive SPICE compliant. Many of our customers have experienced the successful result during assessments of projects run at our facilities. Mecel has now taken the next step to strengthen our efforts in software process improvements and leveraging our international experience with our ability to support our customers in assessing development programs, when Mecel in April 2008, had twelve project leaders, managers, engineers formally trained as SPICE assessors according to the international registration scheme for assessors (IntRSA).
